DESCRIPTION

The Airisto collection furniture are multifunctional – they can be used as a side table, stool and a bench. The natural ash accents the beautiful features of the wood. In addition to the light wood, the other colour option stained black, highlights the shape of the product, representative to Laajisto's work. "A good product has to fit in different environments from the modern and minimalist to rich and classical," explains Laajisto. The simple and modest design language of the Airisto furniture emphasises the asymmetric shape of the foot structure.
